The Real-Estate Boom.

Messrs. Presbrys & Green report an increased inquiry for lots on Washington Heights. The location of Garfield avenue over the new water aqueduct, along the crest of the hills overlooking the city, will enhance the value of all suburban property. The improvements along Connection areaus have extended beyond the boundary, and several fine residences are seen to be built on the nils. The next year will winces great changes in this part of the suburbs of the city.

A Heal-Estate Contest Settled. A Real-Estate Centest Settled.

In the court in general term yesterlay the ones of Ryan against Mages was decided, Messre, Birney and Wheeler appearing for the plaintiff, and Messre, Jackson and Wilson for the defendant. The plaintiff purchased a lot rom Macce, and about the same time a Mr. Jackson, as agent for Magee, sold the same property to Mr. Wagnaman. The Art Amateur for October is especially rich in practical hints and directions for art work and home decoration. The supplement of designs ntains, besides those for flower and figure painting, a notable one for an embroidered panel of "Brds and Wild Roses," the first of a series from the Royal School of Art Needlework at South Kenrington. The frontispiece is a fine drawing by Piton of a superb portrait plaque from the by Piton of a superb pottrait plaque from the amous Deck factory. A spirited sketch of the 'Genius of Music," by the French decorator Galand, forms another striking full-page illustration: a decorative ceiling by Falvre, and two of the Vanderbilt painted windows, are also given. The recent Hamilton sale receives much attention, and many of the most noteworthy paintings and and receives the striking course and the other striking Courber and Bandry, and a very interesting account of the new art of "Lusurs Painting," lately taken up by the fiction "upper ten." If any of our readers are still unacquainted with the Art Amateur it will pay them to sent for the October lesse. Price St a year, single munbers 15 cents.
